

ALEXANDRIA.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 21.

THE NEW YORK Tribune says some northern republican protectionists contemplate making a railroad excursion through the South during the approaching fall, and that they will stop at the larger towns and address the people thereof in favor of republican principles and policies; not to revive any unpleasant memories, but to present republicanism in its most attractive form. Words govern mankind—but not when the facts to refute them are patent to all observers. And sing as sweetly as the republicans may do of republicanism, they can charm no southern democrat when he sees the customs houses and postoffices of the South officered by negroes, and when he reads in the newspapers that the first things the republicans will attempt in the next Congress will be to put negroes into the seats in that body to which southern white men were fairly and legally elected, and to put State elections in the South under the supervision and control of federal officials.

AN ATTEMPT will be made by the republicans in Congress, at the approaching extra session of that body, and be assisted by President Harrison, to put State elections in the South under federal control, because all the voters in the South do not avail themselves of the privilege of suffrage. But, according to the report of the commissioner of labor of Massachusetts, just issued, twenty-three per cent. of the voters of that State failed to vote at the last election there. Certainly an investigation of the causes of the suppressed vote in Massachusetts, just issued, great as it is, is less than in some of the other New England States, should be ordered by Congress, both branches of which are now republican, as soon as the called session thereof shall commence. It would be ridiculous for such a Congress to make a fuss about the suppressed black vote in the South, and say nothing at all about the suppressed white vote in the North.

ONE OF the inmates of the insane asylum at St. Elizabeth, near Washington, escaped yesterday. There being a standing reward of $5 for the return of every escaped inmate to the asylum, the negroes living near there, in order to secure that reward, collected and resisted the officers of the asylum who were attempting to capture the fugitive. Indeed so reckless were the negroes in their attempt to gain their object that they struck one of the officers of the asylum on the head with a brick, seriously injuring him. If the negroes are so vicious and foolish as to commit an outrage of the sort referred to within a mile of the capital of the country, and of a national barracks, is it at all wonderful that the white people of sparsely settled portions of the South should be compelled, as they frequently are, to take the law in their own hands in order to suppress negro outrages in their own neighborhoods?

THE REPUBLICANS of Massachusetts and Pennsylvania are among the most conspicuous northern people who profess to sympathize with the South for the ignorance of its inhabitants. Indeed, such is their desire to remove the ignorance referred to that they would continue the tax on the necessities of life of all the people in the country, North as well as South, in order to effect that object. And yet the census reports show that the ratio of white illiterates to other people in both Massachusetts and Pennsylvania is considerably greater than it is in many of the southern States.

ONE OF the trite assertions of the protectionists when talking or writing to farmers is that protection makes the land of the latter more valuable by affording the products thereof a home market. Well, Vermont is the home of the father of modern protection, Senator Morrill, and is in the most protected section of the country—New England, and yet the annual report of the Commissioner of Agriculture of Vermont, just published, says that 200,000 acres of land in that small State, profitably cultivated during the period of low tariff, have been abandoned by the owners.

GENERAL LONGSTREET thinks better of his old ex-Confederate comrades now than he did before Mr. Harrison refused to give him an office. At a late meeting of ex-Confederates in Atlanta, the General was present, and took an active part, though two old torn and battered Confederate flags waved over the place of meeting.

SOME of the foreign governments now supply their armies with powder that produces neither smoke nor noise when it explodes. A man killed by a ball propelled by such powder would certainly not know what hurt him.

FROM WASHINGTON.

[Special Correspondence of the Alex. Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 21, 1889. Senator Barbour, of Virginia, was at the Capitol to-day. He says he has received a letter from Chairman Gordon, of the Virginia democratic State committee, to the following effect: That Mr. Gordon expects to be well enough to take personal charge of the Virginia campaign in a week or two; that until then he expects Mr. Barbour to assist him; that the call for a meeting of the State committee to be held in Lynchburg has been suspended; that the headquarters of the State committee will be Alexandria; and that of the State executive committee to be composed of one member from each of the Congressional districts of the State and selected by the chairman, six have already been appointed—Messrs. Jones, Thom, Hamilton, Elyson and two Martins. Mr. Barbour will go to Atlantic City to-morrow and have a consultation with Mr. Gordon concerning the management of the campaign.

A personal and political friend of Mr. Frank Hume, in this city, says he feels assured that while Mr. Hume does not want to go to the Virginia legislature, and would do so at great personal sacrifice, he will not decline the nomination if tendered him by the democrats of Alexandria city and county, provided his doing so will not antagonize any other democrat who may desire the nomination. He also says that if Mr. Hume be nominated he will guarantee that Alexandria will not be represented in the next, as she was in the last, legislature by a republican.

Quite a number of delegates from the upper counties of Virginia to the republican convention of that State which meets in Norfolk to-morrow, passed through here yesterday and to-day. Most, if not all, of them are in favor of General Mahone for their gubernatorial nominee, and say that he will be five thousand votes stronger than any other man in their party, and that if defeated his loss of prestige will be no greater than it would be if a similar fate should befall any man he might cause to be nominated.

A Richmond democrat here to-day says it is generally understood there that Mr. W. L. Royall will be a candidate for a democratic nomination to the Virginia Legislature at the democratic primaries to be held in that city, and that such is the desire of many of the democrats of Richmond for a satisfactory settlement of the State debt, that he believes Mr. Royall will receive enough votes to make him one of the regular democratic legislative nominees, and that if so he will lead the ticket. He says there is some talk of heading Mr. Royall off by having the nominations made by a convention instead of by a primary election, but that the democrats there would not stand any such scheme.

The following changes in the 4th class postoffices of Virginia were made to-day: Cricket Hill, Matthews county, W. E. Marchant appointed postmaster, vice F. N. James, removed; Gloucester C. H., Gloucester county, H. S. Weaver, vice A. P. Davies, removed; Lloyd, Essex county, Hellen A. Renno, vice B. F. Gresham, removed; Warsaw, Richmond county, W. E. Coleman, vice F. A. Shackelford, removed; Wood, Scott county, George C. Baynes, vice John L. Dingus, resigned.

A rumor is afloat here to-day to the effect that the President has received a revelation, and now realizes that he has been deceived by Quay, Clarkson and Dudley in the famous Quay-Brady compromise, by which all the federal patronage in Virginia was given or promised to Gen. Mahone.

State Republican Convention.

The Virginia republican convention will meet at Norfolk to-morrow to nominate candidates for Governor, Lieutenant-Governor and Attorney General. The anti-Mahoneites will take no part in the deliberations of the convention. Neither Gen. Grover nor ex-Gov. Cameron will attend. Grover was beaten in the Norfolk election for delegate Monday by Bowden in his own ward and his own precinct. John S. Wise would be there, Capt. Riddleberger, ex-Congressman Yost, the Pendletons, the Lewises, and Collector Brady—not one of them will be there. There are only two or three concurring delegates, and even if the anti-Mahone men should be seated they will not be able to accomplish much. The fact is that but few of his class were chosen as delegates. Under the arbitrary action of the chairman of the county and city committees, who are the appointees of Gen. Mahone, the convention will be composed almost exclusively of followers of that ambition and self-willed politician, and it will be the province of that body to simply voice the will of the General. It has not yet been developed whether Mahone will place himself at the head of the State ticket or name one of his adherents for the position. As for the Lieutenant Governor and the Attorney General, they go a begging. The office of Park Agnew, of this city, and of Harry Bowen, of Tazewell, have been mentioned for the former position. It is said that General Mahone will accept the nomination and make a desperate canvass to carry the State. The General has just returned from a tour of the southwestern section, where he found the republican leaders unanimously in favor of his candidacy.

Col Lamb, of Norfolk, said yesterday: "I have heard Mr. Agnew, the coal merchant of Alexandria and Washington, mentioned in connection with the second place on the ticket more than anyone else. I have no reason to think that he would not accept. For Attorney General the name of General James A. Walker, the commander of the Stonewall Brigade, of Wytheville, has a prominent place. These three names would be my ticket if I had the making of it. I think that Mahone, Agnew and Walker would be the strongest possible combination we could have. Mr. Agnew has not been one of the particular friends of General Mahone, but has rather been classed among those who were unfriendly to him, and especially to the present plan of organization, and his nomination would be a concession to an element in the party which I think would be appreciated."

Gen. Mahone was expected in Norfolk last night, but was detained at home by a sick headache. He disappointed a large number of his followers by his failure to reach the city. He went there this morning, however.

Senator M. T. Quay, of Pennsylvania, has engaged rooms at the Purcell House and will arrive in the city to-day.

Ex-Postmaster General Hatton arrived yesterday and is the guest of Congressman Bowden.

Gen. Groner said yesterday: "We started out to make a fight for delegates, but our friends advised us that the same old tactics were being employed over the State and we concluded to quit. The call for this convention, which was approved by the national committee, seemed fair enough on its face, but in practice it did not differ from all previous efforts in that line. Gen. Mahone is, or will be, in full control of the convention, and, as republicans, desiring the success of the party, we can but hope that that which is best for the party will be accomplished. No; so far as I am concerned, not a single straw will be laid in General Mahone's pathway."

A FAD CASE—Charles Finch, a talented young lawyer of Mecklenburg county, has been adjudged insane. He created quite a heated discussion in his delegation at the democratic convention in his delegation last week. His delegation decided to cast its vote solid for Scott for Attorney General. On Thursday he insisted that after prayer and reading his Bible the Lord had told him to vote for Pollard. It was with difficulty that he could be prevented from stating this as a reason when the single vote was announced. On Friday he attempted to walk on the streets of Richmond. He made his way to Rev. Dr. Hayne's residence and threatened to shoot him for certain charges which he had laid at his door. He was then sent to Williamsburg to the asylum.

Surveys were made yesterday by Mr. Jackson Holland, superintendent of the new postoffice, for the removal of the U. S. Court-house from Baltimore. It will probably go to Richmond.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Ross Raymond, the swindler, has been arrested in London.

John L. Sullivan is said to have sworn off, and will never enter the ring again.

A large trade in cattle and hogs from the United States is being built up in the City of Mexico.

S. W. McKinley, colored, of South Carolina, has been appointed a special inspector of customs at Louisville, Ky.

Paris was visited by a violent storm yesterday. A thunder bolt struck the Eiffel Tower. No damage was done.

The British man-of-war Sultan, which went ashore off the Island of Comino, near Malta, last March, has been floated.

It is reported that Miss Huntington, daughter of Collis P. Huntington, is engaged to Prince Francis of Hatzfeldt-Wildenburg.

The number of changes under the Post office Department, since the present administration took charge, has been about 15,000.

Ex King Malletta, who was deposed by the Germans, has returned to Samoa, where the natives and King Mataafa warmly greeted him.

Edie Robbins, a female horse thief, broke from the Putnam county, W. Va., jail last night, stole a valuable horse from a farmer, and made good her escape.

It was reported in the British House of Commons yesterday that the death sentence of Mrs. Maybrick was certain to be commuted.

Robert Marvel, after fasting 67 days, died at Indianapolis yesterday. His case is so extraordinary that it has attracted attention not only of the curious public, but of the medical fraternity far and near. He was 85 years old.

The financial committee appointed by Mayor Grant on the great fair of 1892 met in the New York City Hall, yesterday and heard a scheme for raising the necessary funds read by Mr. Jesse Seligman.

The New York baseball club lost considerably in percentage yesterday owing to the victory the Bostonians gained over them. The Philadelphia are a strong third, with the Cleveland and Chicago fighting for fourth place.

Pinkerton, the detective, has a new theory of the Sull murder case. He says that Tascott was simply a decoy; that he had accomplices and is still safe. He believes that He is alive and in one of the large cities and ventures a prediction that Tascott will yet be captured.

W. J. Townsend, of Texas, a passenger on La Normandie, had passed his baggage and was leaving the dock, when a coat thrown carelessly over his arm excited suspicion. It was searched, and found to contain a gold watch and chain, a pair of opera glasses, a silk shawl and thirty six pairs of kid gloves. The articles were taken to the seizure room.

Steve Brodie says he has decided to float over the American falls at Niagara. On Friday he will leave New York for the scene of his great undertaking, and will spend several days in selecting the most advantageous part of the falls through which to go. The hotel men and railroad officials have got together a purse of $1,500, which will remunerate him for tempting the grim fellow. The falls are 166 feet high, and no person has yet passed over them and lived.

The wife of millionaire "Mike" McDonald, the noted ex-gambler and politician of Chicago, is missing. It is reported that she had a companion, a Catholic priest, who, it was alleged, had been since unfrocked by the church. The priest is supposed to have had a parish at South Chicago, or some suburb in that locality. The story is that Mrs. McDonald became acquainted with the priest while he was on a visit St. Jarlath's parish, of which she is a member. He became infatuated with her. The admiration was reciprocated, and an elopement was planned and executed. Mrs. McDonald says her only regret is that her little boys are left motherless. McDonald says he will apply for a divorce. Mrs. McDonald is in Boston.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Hon. J. Randolph Tucker's physicians in Lexington pronounce him out of danger.

A. S. Hooper, a Richmond letter-carrier, was yesterday arrested on the charge of robbing a registered letter. A decoy letter was found in his possession.

Paul Key, the negro doctor who is to be hanged at Fredericksburg September 6 for outraging a little white girl, has shown very little concern as to his approaching fate.

The republicans of Richmond last night elected all Mahone delegates to the Norfolk convention, endorsed the distribution of federal patronage as agreed upon in Washington, and recommended Elgar Allan for Attorney General.

Patents were issued yesterday to James W. Brooks, Lynchburg, folding crane; Geo. W. Parish, Salem, barrel hoop; N. C. Vinyard, Vinton, grain and seed separator; A. O. Biles, Richmond, label, and Elgar C. Wiley, Independence, circular saw mill.

The oldest and most faithful tollgate keeper in Rockingham county, Mrs. Mary McGlaughlin, died at her home on Friday, aged 72 years. For 48 years continuously she was tollgate keeper, on the Warm Springs turnpike, and was always at her post.

"A letter from Dunnesville, Essex county says: The writer saw last week a pair of speakeas made on an anvil in this county over one hundred years ago. The rims are very broad and weigh over one fourth of a pound. They were worn by a lady who lived to be over eighty years old.

The twentieth annual meeting of the State medical society which convenes in Roanoke, September 3rd, will be attended by at least 225 physicians from different sections of the State, and also by members of the medical fraternity from other sections. The meeting will be presided over by Dr. E. W. Row of Orange.

AN ESCAPE AT SEA.—The particulars of the escape of the captain and crew of the bark Brazos have just been received at the Maritime Exchange in New York. The Brazos, from New Castle, N. S. W., sailed for Hong Kong on June 8. When about 500 miles east-northeast of Cape Cod she struck on a reef. For three days she remained fast, rapidly battering to pieces. On Sunday the captain, finding it impossible to get the bark off, ordered the boats to be provisioned and got ready. The captain, his wife and half of the crew took one boat and the rest of the crew and the officers the other. After making a short run they reached the other boat, of which they had long lost sight, had not been heard from. Several days later, however, the second boat reached Bowen safely.

A "SERIOUS GRIEVANCE."—About two hundred cigarmakers, employed in the El Modelo factory at Jacksonville, Fla., were out on a strike Monday, but their grievance was so trivial that the firm supposed they would show up for work again yesterday morning. They are still out, however, and have drawn the remainder of the force into their ranks. The men say that the proprietors had insisted on paying them off on the lower floor of the factory. They want the pay envelopes brought to them at their benches. The strikers have organized and threaten to leave the city for Tampa, Key West, New York and Havana unless their demands are acceded to forthwith. The factory disburse nearly $6,000 in wages weekly. The managers and strikers are both firm.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

General Mahone's Convention

[Special dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 21.—The city is rapidly filling up with delegates to the State republican convention which will meet here to-morrow, every boat and train that arrives here being crowded with them. The talk among them to-day is to the effect that the ticket that will be nominated will be William Mahens for Governor, Wyatt M. Elliott for Lieutenant Governor, and James A. Walker for Attorney General, and that the platform will contain planks in favor of the protective tariff, for the removal of the tax on tobacco and fruit brandy, for the Blair bill, for the support of indigent ex-Confederate soldiers, and for the settlement of the State debt upon terms satisfactory to the creditors, if that can be effected without increasing the present rate of taxation.

More Sealers Captured.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 21.—Yesterday afternoon the steamer Olympian brought from Port Townsend Captain Alger, of the American sealing schooner Allie L. Alger, and one of his hunters, both fresh from Behring Sea, and they brought news of importance with them. The captain, who was interviewed immediately on his arrival said: "On the 30th of July we were in Behring Sea as nearly as we can judge about 50 miles west of St. Paul when we sighted the cutter Rush steaming up to us on our quarter. We at once hove to. Some minutes afterwards a boat put off from the Rush and Lieut. Tuttle boarded us. He asked for my papers which I at once handed him and after perusing them he proceeded with two men to search the ship. He did not find anything, however, though that is not to say there was nothing to find aboard. After coming up out of the hold when he had finished searching the ship I said to him: 'Well, what luck have you had in the search?' He said: 'I'll tell you. On the 11th of July we captured the Black Diamond and dispatched her to Sitka with a man on board to take charge of her. On the 23rd of July we sighted the schooner Minie. Her owner and Capt. Jacobson were aboard at the time and she had 343 seals. We took possession of her and dispatched her to Sitka also. Yesterday (29th of July) we bore down on the Pathfinder and found 800 seal-skins aboard of her. We put another man aboard of her and ordered her off to Sitka as well. Last week we boarded both the Ariel and Teresa. They also had some skins aboard but we let them go as they had been too long caught, but ordered them out of the sea.' After telling me this the lieutenant told me I had better get out of the sea at once and was at once pulled aboard the steamer which headed for the east. We then set sail for the South and arrived Monday at Neah Bay. I then left my schooner there and came up from Cape Flattery to Port Townsend. I caught the Olympian and have just reached Victoria. My schooner will, I expect, be on the road to Seattle now. I leave here on the Olympian to day to rejoice her."

Thrilling Experience.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 21.—Three Portland ladies, Mrs. Geo. Bonar, Mrs. Frank Morgan and Miss Sallie Wiberg had a thrilling experience on Mount Hood recently. They became separated from the party that made the ascent a few days ago and spent the greater part of the dreary night on a barren rock 10,000 feet above the sea. A party consisting of three men and six ladies began the ascent at 10 o'clock in the morning, and, in the face of a strong cold wind, reached the summit after a climb of six hours. The descent was made by 7 o'clock and when noses were counted three ladies were found to be missing. The alarm was given among the hundreds of campers on the prairie at the base of the mountain, and fifty men armed with guns and lanterns started out to search for the lost ones. All night the search was kept up. About 3 a. m. several signal guns were fired from the eastern slope of the mountain near White river canon, where one section of the party found the women perched on a large stone huddled together to keep warm. The ladies said when they found they had become separated from the party they wandered about for hours in the hope of finding the right road to the base. While doing so they frequently heard the screams of panthers and the howls of wolves. Fearing attack they sought a place on the top of the rock where they were found. Miss Wiberg held her long alpenstock, their only weapon, and several times when wolves and panthers were growling about the base of the rock she made ready to use it in defense of their lives. Signals were fired to collect the rest of the searchers and the whole party marched down the mountain firing guns and shouting for joy.

The Condemned Men.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Judge Barrett this morning denied the motion made by counsel for Howe a few days ago for a new trial for Charles Giblin, who is sentenced to be hanged on Friday with four other murderers. Counselor Howe will endeavor to day to induce the Governor to interfere in the case of both Giblin and Nolan, another of the five men.

Gov. Hill has granted Giblin, who was to have been hung on Friday, a respite for sixty days until Oct. 23. The applications of both Nolan and Lewis were denied.

The Racers Off Again.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The two ocean greyhounds, Teutonic and City of New York, left this afternoon for Liverpool. The former left her pier at 1:30 o'clock and the latter at 2. It is said that the Teutonic will slow down until the New York overtakes her at Sandy Hook, when both ships will do their best. Much speculation is rife as to which one of them will make Roche's Point, Ireland, first.

Explosion and Fire.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 21.—A gasoline still at the oil refinery of A. D. Miller & Son in Allegheny, exploded at 3 o'clock this morning with a frightful noise. The entire plant took fire immediately and was rapidly destroyed. The engineer is missing and a watchman was blown many feet and badly burned and bruised. The loss is at least $225,000. At half past five o'clock the fire was under control, so far as confining the flames within their original limits was concerned, but the fire was still burning at 9 o'clock this morning. The insurance is light.

Big Fire.

SONOMO, Cal., Aug. 21.—A fire broke out here last night in a saloon and in a short time a large portion of the business part of the town had been burned. The bank, Masonic hall and many other buildings were burned. It is impossible as yet to estimate the loss. During the progress of the fire F. Dubring dropped dead from excitement.

Cyclone.

WINTHROP, Me., Aug. 21.—A cyclone of thirty minutes duration passed over Wintthrop Tuesday afternoon. The sky was obscured by a dense black cloud, which hung very low. Rain fell in torrents and the wind blew a gale accompanied by very heavy thunder. Corn and other crops were seriously injured, and many trees prostrated.

Prize Fight.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 21.—A fight to a finish for a purse of $1,500 took place at the Athletic club rooms last night between Joe Ellingsworth, of New York, and Danny Kelleher, of Boston. Ellingsworth was knocked out in the 43rd round by a blow on the neck.

Colonel John Bell Biggar has returned from Hanover, and was at his office in the Capitol yesterday.

[COMMUNICATED.]

The idea that the "kickers" are in a majority in this city is an absurdity indulged in only by the ignorant. It is very easy for a few to make a noise, but the masses are with Mahone, and the "kickers" will every one of them, toe the mark when election day comes. XX.
